Business Description:

Located in West Los Angeles, CA, Design for Recovery sober living program is a structured recovery community dedicated to helping addicts struggling with substance abuse. Our Los Angeles sober living homes are centered on the principles of honesty, integrity, accountability, responsibility, and service to rebuild the lives of men desperate to break free from the chains of their addiction. Design for Recovery offers short and long term options for individuals looking for sober living homes in Los Angeles. We are dedicated to helping addicts create a new life in sobriety built on a sturdy foundation of principles, moral uprightness, and continued self-development.
